'The Cross stands still whilst the world turns round'

This phrase comes from the ancient Latin saying Stat Crux dum volvitur orbis: no matter what happens in our world, the power and victory of Jesus' passion is steady. It's always there for us.

This week especially we celebrate that wonderful truth; we look up beyond the crises around us to the unique saving work of Jesus.

Thank goodness we can once again publicly come together and relive this all: it's literally vital for the human race. What might seem a death in abject failure is in fact the only thing that wins out over all evil: in extraordinary humility and regal silence God is working the unassailable victory of the resurrection. And he calls us to co-operate in bringing it to our own time. Every one of us will carry the palm cross back to our homes symbolic of this power we bring through our own faith. And of course, we get to celebrate it sacramentally in Eastertide in our parish through the 37 First Communions, 18 Confirmations - and at every Mass. The power of the Cross is there no matter what is happening around us.

Toilet facilities at Our Lady of Fatima church

These have all now been modernised, with the failing pipe-works made good. Lights, cisterns, fans, driers, water-heaters and soap-dispensers are now automated. Our next project is the sorting-out of the electrical system and renewal of the church lighting.

Walsingham Pilgrimage and Retreat

We have paid the deposits for Walsingham and will be requesting the subsidised coach fee of £70 in May.

A message of gratitude from Myrtle and Mary

Easter Sunday collection
