Saying no to the reality of sin in the 21st Century

Today's first reading brings us to the origin of sin through the serpent's lie in the Garden of Eden. The Catechism reminds us: the rich symbolism points to a very real event that affected us all at the start of human history. It also speaks with unique insight to today's human race that has never been so brazen in following the serpent's lie and justifying immoral and ultimately destructive behaviour to itself.

Jesus' 'no' to Satan in the Gospel brings victory over sin and leads the way for us all. Our witness as 21st Christians to Jesus's lead might be rejected aggressively, but its power to break the enslaving and deadly lie of sin is vital and unique for every one of us.

Please pray for the repose of Fay Lynch RIP
